Alfred Aburjaparov The software designed to prevent cyberattacks, keyloggers, and other covert activities. The program is capable of detecting these threats before they happen. This tool has the ability to integrate with Microsoft Office allowing for easy installation within minutes. Users can also continuously monitor their computer for these attempts without ever having to remove the tool. This program is designed with ease of use in mind; it's specifically tailored to make your computer's security process as simple as possible, while still providing reliable detection when needed most. This software is able to defend against keyloggers, malicious software, and other attacks on your system. Keyloggers are one of the most common methods to breach your computer. Keyloggers are designed to capture keystrokes, so that hackers can steal your private information or take control of your system remotely. If you're using a keylogger, it's likely that the hacker has already stolen your personal information. Anti-keylogging technology in REFOG protects against these dangerous threats, in addition to other cyberattacks that may target your system directly. The REFOG Personal Monitor allows you to log all activities when PC is off(hidden mode) . It will always block programs, browser addresses, URLs which are malicious to system security. It also will never allow you to install third-party applications or even install Help Center automatically. You can manage your logs manually or schedule the logs on automatic basis. If you want to delete logs on this program, you need to get rid of the logs by clicking delete button on log file screen; then restart your computer.

The software features an intuitive visual interface that makes it easy for users to get started with keylogging detection in no time at all. The entire process is streamlined with the help of simple Windows shortcuts and powerful options available in the user-friendly configuration panel. The program is compatible with both Windows Vista and Windows 7. It uses high-end hardware resources to process your keystrokes, which provides you with features that are not supported on old computers. REFOG Personal Monitor is compatible with Microsoft Office 2004, 2007, 2010, 2013 or 2016 , as well as all major browsers. Alfred Aburjaparov, the creator of REFOG Personal Monitor, proudly states "We provide 100% guarantee of no defects in our product :)". The company has satisfied customers throughout the world.

The software is designed to be easy for non-technical users to use, while providing great value for the money spent. The program uses a custom installation process tailored especially to REFOG products. The program offers on-demand scanning on the PC, which checks for threats on user request. The process does not require any time limits or additional setup work on the part of the user. All that is required is the determination of whether the keylogger was detected or not after each scan.

The tool has been designed with simplicity in mind, so that almost any user can get started with its use without any special knowledge of how it actually works.
